

Expanding the Public Trust Doctrine

“Corporations are created by state-issued charters. Where corporations are violating their duty to the public trust, governments have an obligation to stop them from doing so or to revoke their charters...”

“Nature’s Trust argues for the extension of the public trust to include whatever aspects of the natural world are necessary for the wellbeing of present and future generations of the public...”